Happy New Year to all our readers. After you've indulged in the festive holiday season, it is time to start thinking about where you'll be riding to this year! Oklahoma Biker is a Riders Activity Guide (RAG), and our photojournalists are excited about sharing their experiences and destinations with you in 2016. Be sure to check out our extensive Calendar of Events in this issue.

I'm often asked how we decide what to publish in this RAG. Non-riders I talk with are amazed that there are enough motorcycle events in Oklahoma for us to fill a magazine without running out of material. Many riders often request that we publish articles that are of specific interest to them. As an enthusiast magazine, our goal is to educate you about what is going on in the Oklahoma biker community, and entertain you with relevant editorials.

To kick off the year, I have a very special announcement. Starting with this issue, we are featuring a new column called "Changin' Lanes." Our very good friend Wanda Watson has graciously contributed her story about how she changed her life more than twenty years ago. Changin' Lanes has been an ongoing project of ours for more than a year. We are extremely excited about introducing you to people who have overcome adversity to achieve success and happiness in their lives.

Not only will Changin' Lanes be a different story in each issue about how someone has changed their life, it will also be a Vlog (a form of web television). The Vlog will be hosted by Reverend Matt Thompson. As part of Changin' Lanes we will have a telephone hotline manned by various motorcycle ministries and service organizations to aid folks needing assistance in changing their lives. Our first Vlog will be released on social media, and our website on January 20th. Be sure and watch for it, and please help us improve upon it by providing your feedback.

As always, we love to hear your thoughts and ideas about the RAG. If you have specific ideas on how we can make Oklahoma Biker a better magazine, or if you have comments, please pass them along to: janitor@oklahomabiker.net We'd like to hear from you.

Cheryl and I are looking forward to seeing you, and riding with you, in this upcoming New Year!

Much love, honor and respect. Ride safe and watch out for the cages.

Wanda Watson: Changin' Lanes

Twenty years ago on October 13, 1995 ~ I quit doing meth. Seems like yesterday and most of the time like forever. I'm living proof that it "works if you work it." "One day at a time" is more than just saying, it's a way of life and thank God He and others that loved me, TRULY LOVED ME, helped me find my way out of that dark painful pit that kept me in denial for so many years.

I've never really talked about my sobriety birthdays before other than in meetings or with personal friends and loved ones, but I thought 20 years clean from dope was worth sharing. Being an entertainer it was very easy to obtain anything I wanted or needed dope-wise for at least half of my career.

Free is free, didn't matter what it was, I ingested it &/or snorted it. Like they say "them damn they sayers" 10 ft. tall and bullet proof. I trafficked, I carried guns, I was a full blown outlaw going and hanging with people I should have NEVER been associated with. I was one "probable cause" pull over from being in prison when I finally got a clue. I had to separate myself from "playmates, play things, play places" to really get my footing to a better life. It was hard staying away from these things, especially in the world I had become accustomed to.

It wasn't easy getting clean, but five years of meetings; every single day, and sometimes 3 times a day; working at a rehab for 5 years, then just pulling my head out of my ass and realizing that my priorities and my GOD were more important than one more bump or bumpy ride.

I found my way back by the Grace of God, which by the way I never lost sight of...I just tried to drive my own life instead of handing Him the wheel. Now here I am, 20+ years clean!!! I still think about it sometimes. I still wonder how I ever took that road to hell. BUT, I made it back to Heaven in one piece and I'm still kicking dirt on the top part of the ground today. My career is great. My kids are great. I'm someone's grandma times 3; I have a beautiful home and wonderful husband I NEVER thought I'd have in my life.

I'm rich; not in money, but in love and life. Positive begets positive and I don't entertain negative thoughts or negative thought patterns anymore. No more pitiful me. I look for my miracle everyday and if I don't find it, I keep looking because I wasn't looking hard enough the first time. Forgive yourself, let others forgive you or not; but say your sorry's and keep it movin'. I did my part, that's all that matters. It's a selfish program so let the chips fall where they may. Some will come back around, some won't, some don't need to and cannot enter my world ever again. I'm okay with that, so they need to be too.

So, here's to my next lifetime of clean living. Thank you to my blood family and my Fort Smith family for putting up with me. You were all there for me as I took this step into my reality life that was always there waiting for me to come home to. The words I remember most was my mom saying "welcome back." Amen & Hallelujah; IT WORKS IF YOU WORK IT, ONE DAY AT A TIME!

American Performance Cycle and Big John – remakes, repairs and representative for BACA

This is not anyone's favorite time of year, but what would you say if we told you that we had something that could turn your winter blahs into winter WOO-HOO's? Well, we found it. And it's right close in Oklahoma. It's American Performance Cycle in McAlester and they can get your American ride ready to sing this spring.

APC has parts, they do custom bikes and upgrades as well as everyday repairs. It's worth a trip to see what they can do for your American-made ride. Check under couch cushions for loose change, return those new clothes your partner said you needed, sell a kidney if you have to, then get your ride to Big John and let him make your bike into your dream machine for the warmer months ahead. If you got the DIY bug, buy a kit from John and BAM! Instant winter project! Makes you smile just thinking about it, don't it? (If you don't know the difference between a flathead and a Phillips' screwdriver, we're gonna suggest you leave the DIY thing to the pros for a while).

Even if your job is small, APC has the goods to get you started, or if you need them to come get your bike, they can do that too. Check out the teaser photos on their Facebook page to get you motivated to make your sickle special.

Now, we can't stop there, cuz Big John also has another very important gig; a gig that trumps all bike business. John is an International Ambassador for BACA and has been a part of Bikers Against Child Abuse for quite some time. Unlike many other "charities" out there, no one who works for BACA gets paid anything for their efforts. It is all volunteer and they have 501c3 status, so if you need to get in a tax deduction for 2015, check out www.bacaworld.org, but get ready to shed a tear or two.

We have more to tell you about the wonderful things Big John, APC and BACA do, so check in with oklahomabikernet to find out more. And wear your mittens! Frostbite sucks!

BIKERS AGAINST CHILD ABUSE

No Child Deserves to Live in Fear

Bikers according to ...

Well it will have been seven months since “Waco” by the time this is printed. Any idea as to what’s going on down there? Don’t feel bad or uninformed; I don’t think anyone knows what’s going on in Waco.

Gag orders, appeal of gag orders, appeals of appeal of gag orders — where does it all end? Or, as far as we know, where did it all begin? Again, don’t feel bad or uninformed; I do not think anyone knows! Confederation of Clubs meetings have been going on for many years, and never before has there been an ordeal like what happened in Waco. As long as I can remember COC’s were considered safe and orderly meetings. A meeting where ALL bikers could go for information.

Just one week before the Waco incident, bikers from all over the United State came together for a National Coalition of Motorcyclists Meeting (NCOM) in Denver. This NCOM meeting we held without incident. At the time, I am sure the folks in Texas thought it was a great idea to have a meeting with a central location to discuss what was talked about at Denver a week earlier. Since everyone did not have the opportunity to go to the Denver NCOM, this would be convenient opportunity to share information from the Denver NCOM meeting. It then reminds me of a song by “Dago” called “Unbreakable”. The song begins something like this “It was just an ordinary day...then dark forces began to play.”

What happened next? You will just have to use your imagination because facts on the event are scarce. There has been some highly edited video “leaked.” Law enforcement says they did not leak it and Attorneys say they did not leak it. It really does not matter who leaked it, it shows little about what happened in Waco, and what sparked it off.

Most of the actual information we have comes from Vehicle Forfeiture Affidavits. That forfeiture thing opens up a whole new set of rules. Did you know even if every biker charged in Waco is found innocent, the State of Texas may still keep the vehicles?

By filing forfeiture on the vehicles the presumption of innocence goes away. In other words, if charges are filed on an individual he or she is innocent (or suppose to be) until proven guilty. But by charging the vehicle, it is forfeited unless you can disprove what the State says. The rules are reversed, and only six states have laws prohibiting this forfeiture. Texas is not one of them. Oh well, like they say, “Texas” it’s a whole ‘nother Country.

All that can be done at this point is to sit back and hope the wheels of justice turn in the right direction.

Ride Oklahoma Charities (ROC)

Ride Oklahoma Charities, Association (ROC) is a 501(c)3 non-profit organization in the State of Oklahoma that supports the communities, people and local businesses through fund raising events. 100% of donations collected benefit the recipient, which is different charity for every run we facilitate.

ROC supports the The Ride to Remember in April of every year, benefiting the Oklahoma City National Memorial, which will be held again on April 16, 2016. We also support the Special Care Run, held each year in May, benefiting a school for the handicapped, special needs and challenged children. We hold an annual Fun Run, no fees/registration needed to ride, to a State Park here in Oklahoma for a cook out dinner and just a fun time together for a overnight trip. ROC also facilitates a Thanksgiving Food Drive in November and a Toy Drive in December to benefit needy families during the Holidays.

ROC has facilitated and supported numerous runs over the course of 2015 including, but not limited to: The Ride To Remember, Bob Stoops Foundation Toy Run, Ride for Limbs of Life, Special Care Run, Service Dog for a Hero Run, ROC Thanksgiving Food Drive.

ROC holds open membership meetings on a monthly basis for volunteers that would like to help ROC in our fundraiser events. Anyone is welcome to attend these meetings as we are always needing volunteers from the community. Membership meetings also include a ROC Indian Taco cook out, tips and donations appreciated, and will be held on the following dates in 2016: Jan. 24, Feb 17, Mar 20, April 24, May 22, June 19, July 24, Aug 21, Sept. 18, Oct 23, Nov. 20 and Dec 18.

Again. Ummm, WHAT?!? Where are the Harley Davidson Gift Cards? Where are the leather doodads you've wanted since 2003? Dry your eyes, cuz we found a weekend to make up for all you missed this Christmas with plenty of gearhead vendors, hot women, specialized motorsickle parts and pieces for your beloved ride, live music and good times. You can even leave the family at the hotel while you get your Christmas back. We won't judge.

The Chill in Park City will be at the Kansas Pavilion Buildings on February 26th - 28th. This little car, bike and semi show has been the apple of every gearhead's eye from many states around since 2009 and it is now crazy popular. There are 46 car classes, 10 semi-truck classes, and 33 motorcycle classes! Plenty of vendors, sexy girls, famous musical acts and lots of shiny metal along with some of the best boss paint jobs you've ever seen all converge for a feast for the eyeballs and plenty of noise for the ears to go along with it. All they ask is that you keep your drool off the rides. To sweeten the deal, organizers grabbed up some better-known bands, (Autograph the headliner), is part of your admission price. See if your car or bike stereo can compete in the Street Beat Competition or just peruse the hot babes.

You don't even know me, and I got you an awesome Christmas gift this year!

Tickets are $12/day for Friday and Saturday and $10 for Sunday and are available at the door. Kids 12 and under get in for free and Park City has hotel/motel accommodations for you too at www.parkcityks.com. It's just off I-35 north at exit 17 on 229 E 85th Street North. Lat: 37.839004, long: -97.3263965

Tulsa's Chill is happening April 29th - May 1st and I'd tell you more, but I don't want to disappear. Alls I know is that they are still holding meetings in secret underground bunkers, and we should have more to tell you next issue.

You can download forms, learn more or look at pics at www.thechill.net. Check out www.oklahomabiker.net for more on surprises in store for visitors to The Chill in Tulsa. Of course, we'll tell you more about Tulsa's Chill next issue and on the OK Biker webby-thing too.

Now, go get that ride all pretty – you got a contest to enter.

Wanna sell stuff? The Chill is offering some spaces they have left to a few lucky vendors; if you are willing to be a vendor at both Chills, you get 20% off your booth fees for both events. Organizers are expecting huge turnouts in 2016. If you do biz in the car, 'sickle or truck world, this may be money well spent to get the word out. Everything you need to know is on their website www.thechill.net

Bob Stoops Toy Run Doing Things Differently

There is nothing like seeing a child's face light up on Christmas. Now imagine that with the excitement of 150 motorcycles rolling up to your house with Santa. That is the Bob Stoops Toy Run.

It all started 15 years ago when Timmy Smith would put up lights on the houses of children who had been struggling with illness. As more people wanted to get involved 5 years ago Timmy got the motorcycle community involved and with 5 bikes the first year the Bob Stoops Toy Run was born.

This year on Dec 6, Timmy Smith with the help of Tim and Cheryl Morris, Stephanie LaRue, Keidra LaJeune and Ashley Garner who coordinating with Nurse Royanne from OU Childrens Hospital and Kay Tangner started in October talking with the families and were able to bless 10 children this Christmas and present the family of an angel that lost his battle with Champions Medallions. Each child, a "Champion" was presented a Bob Stoops Champions Medallion and presents during this run, but it was truly all the bikers that were blessed to see that moment and interact with these little champions and their families.

Starting out at Fort Thunder Harley Davidson with additional toys collected the day of the run being donated to Moore Police and Fire Departments to help local children in need, they rode to the homes of each champion and ended up at The Toby Keith Foundations OK Kids Korral, where they toured the facility where families of children fighting cancer can stay free of charge and are provided with support services while receiving treatment.

If you truly want to be blessed next holiday season this is a ride you don't want to miss.

HAPPY TRAILS with TWO TONE BIKER

Open Season

I don't consider our riding season closed! My closest friends know I take advantage of every chance I get to dirty my windshield. One of favorite times is the cooler weather when all the leather and protective gear actual feels comfortable to wear. Also, in the cold the bugs are gone and overheating is not an issue, for you or your bike.

In Oklahoma the weather changes with huge temperature swings, and you should always be prepared, to take advantage of those bearable opportunities to saddle up and see something new with friends. I love to get out and Pack some food and beverages, load up with everything we might need and hit the road to a new spot. (There are always new spots). Lakes, county roads, festivals to name a few are my favorite destinations. I very seldom head to a bar on any ride although they are great hookup spots to wait on that one buddy who is always late.

This year my plan is to ride to day use areas like parks or lakes that have grills to cook on, and catchup with friends. So many times we get in the same old grind, especially through the spring and fall with fund raisers and rallies that we don't spend quality time enjoying our friendships, and of course casual riding.

I think back to New Years' day(s) gone by, when temps have been in the 70's and 30's; both extremes are always memorable when good friends meet to start the New Year out with a ride. Whether we ride five miles or a hundred miles the goal is to start out riding (kind of like a resolution).

This year make sure to keep your season open. Follow me @Two Tone Biker on WordPress, google plus, or Facebook and see some great ideas for lunch rides, or just find an Oklahoma jewel on your own and share it.

Happy trails, and smile somebody loves you!

THE FINAL INSPECTION

The Soldier stood and faced God,
Which must always come to pass.
He hoped his shoes were shining,
Just as brightly as his brass.

'Step forward now, Soldier,
How shall I deal with you?
Have you always turned the other cheek?
To My Church have you been true?'

The soldier squared his shoulders and said,
'no, Lord, I guess I ain't.
Because those of us who carry guns,
Cain't always be a saint.

I've had to work most Sundays,
And at times my talk was tough.
And sometimes I've been violent,
Because the world is awfully rough.

But, I never took a penny,
That wasn't mine to keep.
Though I worked a lot of overtime,
When the bills just got too steep.

And I never passed a cry for help,
Though at times I shook with fear.
And sometimes, God, forgive me,
I've wept unmanly tears.

I know I don't deserve a place,
Among the people here.
They never wanted me around,
Except to calm their fears.

If you've a place for me here, Lord,
It needn't be so grand.
I never expected or had too much,
But if you don't, I'll understand.

There was a silence all around the throne,
Where the saints had often trod.

As the Soldier waited quietly,
For the judgment of his God.

'Step forward now, you Soldier,
You've borne your burdens well.
Walk peacefully on Heaven's streets,
You've done your time in Hell.'

Give a Little Valentines Day Love at the 19th Annual OKC Bike Show

Why not surprise your beloved biker with a trip to this year's OKC Bike Show at the Oklahoma State Fairgrounds February 13 - 14? Shake things up from years past with the smell of exhaust, leather, hot dogs; and to make your other senses happy, they offer a tattoo contest, all sorts of live music, plenty of loud pipes, and making things sweeter is the never ending parade of chromed, polished two and three wheelers as far as the eye can see, all lined up in a heated building. It's all kinds of excitement with shows, contests, all kinds of goodies you need (and plenty you didn't even know you needed), and lots of good music all in one nice warm indoor space.

Are you a bit of an exhibitionist? There are plenty of chances to show off: you can enter your ride in one of the many bike or car shows, AND, if your skin art is second to none, you can make it a trifecta and enter the tattoo show as well (but if it's located somewhere risqué, you'll have to save your show for your special someone when you get home). If you are short on cash (but long on parts), you can grab all those pieces laying around the garage and see what they can fetch at the swap meet or check out the many vendors offering all of the latest and greatest gifts to make this the best Valentines Day you ever had.

Just when you thought it was time to put the ol' Valentines Day Show in your phone's calendar and be done with it, Jeff Williams can do one better. This company's been in the bike biz since 1972! Starting in early spring and running through late fall, the Jeff Williams Swap Meet makes the rounds through Oklahoma and Missouri. They happen frequently enough that you don't have to wait too long to find a rare part, but not too frequently that you don't pay them no mind. Best bit is they are coming to Tulsa, Oklahoma City and Kansas City, Missouri. As you probably know, Oklahoma Biker will have all you need to stay on top of these events as well as plan for which ones will work with your schedule. Happy swapping.

If you want to participate in any of the events at the 19th Annual Motorcycle Show in OKC, you can find forms, maps and all kinds of info at www.jswswapmeet.com, or if you have questions, you can e-mail jswswapmeet@yahoo.com or call (816) 228-5811, (816) 456-4415. The Show is happening Feb. 13, 10 a.m. – 6 p.m. and Feb. 14, 9 a.m. – 4 p.m. at the Cox Pavilion at State Fair Park in Oklahoma City. If you want to be a vendor, you might wanna get your forms in (like, yesterday!) because spaces fill fast and there aren't many left. If you plan to spend the weekend in OKC and get all you can out of the Show, there are plenty of places to go to eat, stay overnight and go for some nightlife. Check out www.visitokc.com and www.Booking.com for places to go to make your weekend of romance really special. Lots of other people are going to be planning for Valentine's Day too, so booking and planning ahead will make your weekend less stressful (and more romantic).

Happy Valentines Day y'all!

Time to Start Over. Again

Happy New Year! It's time to start over...again.

It seems we are always at a point where we need to start over. Old things weighing on our mind leave us with a sense of guilt and regret. We regret the past. We regret things we have done. We even regret things we have not done. We have an uncanny ability to live in the past. The problem is, living in the past does not allow us to appreciate the present and build a future.

Isaiah 43 says; "Forget the former things, do not dwell on the past. See, I am doing a new thing! Now it springs up; do you not perceive it?" God is speaking to His people through the prophet Isaiah about moving on in life and being faithful. These are powerful words.

Not only does it speak to His people so long ago but also to you – TODAY.

Forget the past. Mistakes have been made and lessons have been learned. It is time to move on in this new thing God has for you.

Happy New Year. God has something for you...it is called a life. Accept it and move on.

Something to think about in the wind,

Pastor Matt

Chapter 13 Christmas

LAKES AREA ABATE TOY RUN

Happy New Year (Uh?)

If you're reading this you must have survived the Holidays! I hope you had a very Merry Christmas (yep, I went there) and wish you a happy and prosperous New Year.

I hope you made it thru the holidays without offending too many people with your cheer. It seems you can't say much of anything without someone getting their panties in a bunch. You can't wish people a Merry Christmas because someone in ear shot might get offended and the schools can't have a Christmas tree because it might hurt some kid's feelings or put them in an uncomfortable place. Well tough shit! I am not PC and there is a real good chance I won't ever be. I'm pretty sure that all the anti-Christmas kind of people don't have any problem taking the "holiday" off from work (with pay no doubt), maybe they should just keep working and pull everyone's shift that really do want to enjoy the holiday with their family. I'm pretty sure that would make a lot of Cops, Fire Fighters and EMT's happy. Speaking of the anti-Christmas folk, it seems like the Government has a pretty big hand in all that shit storm so I have an idea for them. Instead of taking the 3 weeks or whatever they take for the holidays, why don't they keep their asses in Washington and maybe start working on a balanced budget for next year so they don't have to wait until the very last minute and run the risk of shutting down the damn country, then acting like a bunch of 2nd graders trying to hammer out a last minute deal?

Enough on that, I'm sure I'll come back to it in the future. This is the first year in a long (very long) time that I have lived in town during the holidays. Now maybe I just haven't paid attention to it or maybe the days of people decorating their house has 1. Gone by the way side or 2. sure has changed! It seems to me that a lot less people decorate their houses and some of the people that do..... shouldn't! I have a couple of neighbors that just (in my humble opinion) did it right. Classic lights, set in a classic style. Not too much, not too little. I still love the classic house with just white lights outlining the structure or say maybe the standard light string across the front of the house with the one simple light in each of the windows that face the street. Simple but timeless. Then you have the house down the street that looks like Disney puked lights all over the place! For the love of God! What the hell goes thru their head when they put the lights up? Now, now, before you get all bent. I do believe in the "go big or go home" theory but some of these places would leave Clark Griswold asking "what the hell?!" I'll even go as far as saying I do like the "White Trash" Christmas displays, but damn..... These folks (and some others) just flat out had a swing and a miss in my book. When did purple become a Christmas color? Come on people, let's at least try and keep it classy!

As far as the weather goes, you can blame it on Global warming, El Nino or El Dingo, but for those of us that don't put our bikes up (you know, because the riding season is over) we sure have had some ass kicking riding in December! Please try and keep in mind that the idiots talking and texting are not looking for people on motorcycles in December.

And to finish this up. Remember all those people we thanked, thought of and said prayers for over the holiday season? You know, the ones here and overseas that are guarding your freedoms so that some dumbass can bitch about the fact that a Christmas tree offends them. Yeah, they're still over there doing that for you. Why don't you take a minute out of your busy day and say another prayer or take a minute and think about them again.

They gave up their holidays so you could enjoy yours.
